Leigh, a USA Today bestselling author, has a knack for creating characters that are both relatable and lovable. In "What Happens in Hollywood Village," she introduces us to a cast of quirky and charming characters who live in a small town on the outskirts of Los Angeles. There's Abby, a struggling actress who dreams of making it big in Hollywood; Jake, a handsome and successful lawyer who's hiding a secret past; and Rose, a wise and witty elderly woman who's seen it all.

When Abby's car breaks down in Hollywood Village, she's forced to stay in town for a few days. She soon finds herself drawn to the quirky charm of the town and its inhabitants. Jake, who's been living a lonely life since his wife passed away, finds himself falling for Abby's infectious spirit. And Rose, who's been living in the town for decades, becomes Abby's confidante and guide.

As Abby spends more time in Hollywood Village, she begins to realize that there's more to life than chasing her dreams in Hollywood. She learns the importance of community, friendship, and love. And she discovers that sometimes, the best things in life happen when you least expect them.

"What Happens in Hollywood Village" is a feel-good funny read that will stay with you long after you finish it. It's a story about the power of community, the importance of following your dreams, and the healing power of love.
